

Ted. 4 P.M.

Dear Folks,

Am out in the yard since it's so nice outside or has been all day and now that I'm outside it's suddenly gotten cloudy. Supposed to go to 80° degrees but I don't know if it did or not. Georgia and I have had colds for almost a week now and that has sort of knocked things a bit here. Georgia seems less affected than I, however. - It's nice in the yard - we've cleaned it all up and even had to mow it already. Our lilacs are opening now and other shrubs are budded. - Do send the sunsuit material - we're going to need those things this year. - Hope your fingers are healing O.K. now Daddy! - Didn't get my Optic this week - wish someone would send me their copy.

Dated April 6 I believe. - Now, I've spent ten minutes looking far over my lists for writing home. I know I brought it out and I've looked high and low.
I don't know where it went unless the wind blew it away. - I hear Delta saying "G-r-u-e-n - Kroml Hair tonic!" I fear she's mixed up the commercials. - Christy is at Dramatic Art class tonight and doesn't get home until 6:30 so we'll have late supper. - Eating is such a pleasure and cooking these days is a pain in the neck as far as planning a meal, buying the food, etc. goes. We've had fresh meat two days out of six and one of those was fish. There just isn't any meat unless you patronize a black market shop.

He can't even buy chicken. Haven't had one since Xmas. Sure wish we could drop in to see you and purchase one of your boarders (non-paying) for ~~steering~~.
- Of course, that is a minor reason why we'd like to drop in. The kids got so disgusted when they ask when are we going down to camp on the farm and we have to say we don't know, I don't see how we could come this year. It really would be like moving this time with baby equipment and all. - Now it's Thurs. p.m.
Baby's asleep and kids outside so I'm outside on the front steps soaking up the sun. It's not quite so warm today, <sup>WICKA ME</sup> Lot of interruptions yesterday before I got further.
I'll send this on. Love
John's